

To Whom It May Concern,

We have had the honor of knowing Jack Bunnell for the past 10 years as his neighbor, friend, and employer. Jack has always had an exceptional work ethic. Whether it is in sports, academics, or at work, Jack has always given his best and excelled. For the past three summers, Jack has worked on our family farm. During this time he communicated effectively, learned new tasks, and was punctual and hard working.

Jack is a quick learner. He has learned how to do many tasks on and around the farm. He takes feedback and quickly incorporates it into the task at hand. Jack also takes initiative. He knows when something needs to be done and works hard to complete the task. Many of the jobs Jack completed were outside and in unfavorable conditions. Jack never complained and always did a great job. Jack was also dependable and communicated well about his work schedule. Being active in sports and his church, he made sure to communicate in a timely manner if he was unable to work.

These skills and attributes will be great assets in all areas of Jack's future. He has exceptional work ethic and communication skills.

Feel free to contact us if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Jed and Liz Roe
